COURSE DETAILS

Cambridge Pre-U Principal Subject in Mandarin Chinese is a qualification for 16-19 year olds who want to go to university. It has been specifically designed to meet the needs of foreign language learners. As well as allowing learners to develop their language skills, the syllabus fosters an awareness of Chinese culture, history and economy.

Language is taught through the following topics: Family, Young People and Education. There are further topics specific to each examination, such as Media, Work and Leisure or The Equality of Opportunities. Throughout, the focus is on developing comprehensive skills in the disciplines of Reading, Writing and Speaking.
